

Amerex Pty Ltd Privacy Policy

Protecting your privacy and your personal information is important to us.

We will record your personal information (including email address) if you send us a message, register for an event, download a document, subscribe to our news or join a survey/interest group.

The information you provide may be added to our client relationship management system (CRM) and used for future communications from us. We will also use any additional contact information you provide to assist us in responding to your enquiry or request, and to confirm any appointments and bookings. Subscribers to our mailing lists can unsubscribe at any time.

We will not use or disclose information collected about you other than for a purpose made known to you, a purpose you would reasonably expect, a purpose required, authorised or permitted by or under any law, or a purpose otherwise authorised by you.

Downloading material

Where this website includes material intended for download it is provided without charge. Although we have made every effort to ensure that the material provided in the download is complete, current, reliable, free from error and virus contamination, we do not warrant or make any representation about the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of the information or whether the download has been corrupted or tainted by viruses.